World class training & networking on vital Microsoft technologies - for the experts, by the experts.

TEC 2011 in Las Vegas

Nearly 800 highly technical IT professionals are expected at The Experts Conference 2011. These delegates want innovative solutions that make their lives easier. Grab their attention with your name on the website, signage, Conference Guide, and more!

Founded in 2002, The Experts Conference (TEC) provides experienced Active Directory and identity administrators with advanced technical education from the industry's top experts and Microsoft technology leadership. Today, the conference has grown to nearly 900 participants annually and now includes an expanded emphasis on identity management, messaging and collaboration technologies as well as directory services.

In addition to it being THE conference for the most experienced users of directory and identity management technologies, TEC offers:

- » In-depth, highly technical content
- » One-on-one access to industry leaders
- » Invaluable networking opportunities
- » Career advancement possibilities

TEC 2011 offers four conferences:

- » The Experts Conference for Directory & Identity
- » The Experts Conference for Exchange
- » The Experts Conference for SharePoint
- » The Experts Conference for Virtualization

TEC 2011 Attendee Profile

As part of its mission to better understand and serve the directory and identity management community, the TEC team conducts an independent survey of TEC attendees. Begun in 2005, the annual Attendee Survey provides insight into issues and priorities, current practices, directory tool preferences, technical environments, and job satisfaction.

Here are a few of the recent survey highlights:

- » 83% of attendees are “hands-on” practitioners — administrators, architects, system engineers and consultants.
- » Nearly 75% work in large corporate or government IT organizations.
- » 71% work in very large IT organizations with more than 1,000 employees, with 55% of these respondents supporting more than 20,000 users and 79% supporting more than 5,000 users.
- » The top organizational responsibilities (respondents could select multiple areas) were administration 54%, operations 53%, or security 48%.

Expected TEC 2011 Las Vegas Attendees

2010 attendees—nearly 600 total—came from more than 200 companies in 16 countries across a wide range of industries. In 2010, you can expect to see job titles such as:

- » Administrator
- » Consultant
- » Systems Engineer
- » Systems Analyst
- » Business Analyst
- » IT Manager
- » IT Director
- » Vice President
- » Industry Analyst
- » Media Representative

Nearly 800 attendees are expected at The Experts Conference 2011. These are the most experienced users of Microsoft directory, identity management, Exchange, SharePoint and Virtualization technologies who know they must attend TEC 2011 to stay on top of their game. They'll spend an intense three days in keynote speeches, sessions, and special events. And they're looking to build their expertise and make their jobs easier with innovative solutions.

Make sure your organization is front and center and they remember your name with a premier Gold, Silver, or Bronze sponsorship.
